

Interpretive Center Area Update ...

All is in place to start construction of the Interpretive Center Area (ICA) in the spring of 2016. The expected completion date is July 2016. The ICA will be located at the front of the Park between the parking lot and St. Mary's Rd.

The design of the ICA by our Architect, and complemented by our graphic design and content consultants, beautifully enables the rich history of the Park to be explored. Upon completion, this project will tie in well with the overall objective of the Park, being a place of both serenity and learning. The content to be shared will be on 4 panels located on the Shelter Building walls, and on 5 panels and 2 all-weather note books located on four sites placed on a circular pathway leading from the site towards St. Mary's Rd and circling back to the Shelter Building.

Getting to this point has required enormous effort by the volunteers comprising the Henteleff Park Foundation. More effort will be required to bring it to completion and to maintain it. Your help as a volunteer is critical to our being able to do so. Please read towards the bottom of this newsletter for more information, or visit our website at Henteleffpark.org.

Interpretive Walks

Every year, we hold interpretive nature walks and bird watching in which interested folks can get a tour of the park and learn about its amazing characteristics. These events are often planned and coordinated by Marilyn Latta, who is an expert horticulturalist and naturalist. This year Marilyn Latta conducted a botany walk on July 7th at 7:00 PM.

Green Team 2015

This year we hired two Green Team members, Avery Sharpe and Megan Ferley. During the summer they planted, weeded, mulched and watered new trees, maintained the entrance to the park and the parking lot area, and maintained the extensive trails in the park.
